THE NINETY-NINTH YEAR OPENS

With slightly more than the usual enrollment, the customary number of visitors, and a perfect morning, September 22nd saw the opening of the ninety-ninth year of the College. The Frehman Class was cordially welcomed by President Stryker and later by Senator Elihu Root, who limited his remarks to an expression of congratulation and good wishes to 1914.

The Chapel Row, as usual, was a victory for the Freshmen, 1913 feeling keenly the loss of the twenty-two men who were once members of the class. The plan of the Freshmen of blacking their faces has seldom proven more successful, the result being the elimination of the usual confusion. The hospital list was represented by a zero.

In the athletic events the Sophomores, with a year's experience, had little difficulty in gathering in most of the events. Wenigmann and Shaul, '13, were victors over Booth and Bristol, '14, in the grass races, while Quinn, '13, won the first fall over Flagg, '14, in the heavy weight wrestling. The two remaining bouts in this class were not contested. Clapp, '13, defeated Akers, the Freshman representative in the middle weight, while Lyon, '14, won a majority of falls over Davis, '13, in the light weight contest.

In the relay race around the Quadrangle the Sophomore team, consisting of Shaul, Roberts, Wenigmann and Hahn, three of whom were Varsity men, had a rather easy victory over Perry, Regin, Riddell and Booth, '14. The Freshmen made a very creditable showing in view of the fact that they had not had an opportunity to pick their most able men.

The real excitement of the morning was furnished by the tug-of-war. The Freshman team was gaining the advantage over its rival when the affair became a general contest with Alumni and Upper Classmen included. At this critical moment the magic hand of George William Browning intervened and snap went the rope. Souvenirs are now on sale by members of both classes.

VARSITY WINS OPENING GAME.

In the first game of the season Hamilton defeated Clarkson Tech. 20 to 0. The day was ideal for football. The sky was clear and the air cool enough to give a snap to the plays. Vice-President Sherman viewed the game from the side lines while the bleachers were comfortably filled with students and visitors. For the first game of the season the cheering was good. The Varsity, playing against a team of almost its own weight, showed greater speed, aggressiveness and adaptability to the new rules. Field Coach Moore and the other Alumni who have been on Steuben Field, notably the Drummonds and Harry Barrows, '06. have built up a team that promises to develop into a formidable football machine.

Drummond kicked off to Clarkson at 4:30, but the latter was unable to gain consistently and Hamilton took the ball. Off-tackle bucks by Sidle and Knox brought the ball near the goal and Knox finally went over for a touchdown, which he followed with a goal.

The ball was again kicked off to Clarkson, but Hamilton regained it and from the 25-yard line Drummond kicked a beautiful goal from the field. The quarter ended with the ball on Clarkson's 35-yard line. Score, Hamilton 9, Clarkson 0.

The second quarter was marred by considerable fumbling. A Clarkson man almost got away for a touchdown, but Sidle nailed him from behind as he headed down a clear field.

One of the advantages of the new rules was demonstrated in the third quarter when Hamilton appeared with nine new players. Tho no score was made this team played as strong a defensive game as the Varsity, and Clarkson could not gain.

The regular team went in again in the last period and proved its ability to gain. Knox got away around right end for a touchdown, but as the whistle was blown for a penalty he was brought back. He repeated, however, with a left end run almost to the goal line and went over for a touchdown from which he kicked a goal.

In the last minute of play Burdick, with beautiful interference, went outside right end and after a forty-yard run planted the ball between the goal posts. The kick for goal failed just as the final whistle blew.

The Hamilton back field was strong and fast thruout. Sidle and Knox were strong on defense and offense and Stone ran the team cleverly. The backfield interference, which counts for so much this year, was very effective. Robinson made good at left half. Burdick and Roberts held the ends of the line firm, were fast on kicks, carried the ball occasionally and several times recovered fumbles. There was not much punting, but Drummond easily had the better of Morse, Clarkson's captain. One of the most encouraging features was the playing of the second string men. When there are two good men for every position even injury can not weaken the team.

It should be remembered that this is Clarkson's first Varsity team in six years, and they should have credit for a fast, nervy game.

The line-up:

THE MUSICAL CLUBS.

In spite of the seemingly irreparable loss which the Musical Clubs have undergone this year, prospects for the coming season are unusually bright. Present indications point to clubs which will equal if not eclipse any that Hamilton has yet put forth. The Musical Clubs are assuming every year a position more and more important among our activities, being the only phase of college life in which Hamilton can successfully compete with larger institutions. Never has the College manifested such an interest in them as they have this Fall, forty new men having tried for positions on the Glee Club, while fifteen new men have declared themselves unusually willing to be taken on the Instrumental Club. The tryouts were held last week in Commons, and as a result the personnel of the clubs will for the present be as follows:

GLEE CLUB.

First tenor—Sidle, '11; Johnson, '11; West, '12; Hahn, '13; Callahan, '13; Perry, '14.

Second tenor—Gouge, '11; O'Brien, '11; Peters, '12; Alheim, '12; Wat- '11; Petus, '12; Alheim, '12; Watkin, '12; Peck, '12; C. B. Thompson, '12; Akers, '14.

First Bass—Peters, '11; Knox, '12; DuBois, '12; Eells, '12; Williamson, '14; Barney, '14; Robinson, '14; Felt, '14.

Second bass—Allen, '11; Burdick, '11; Marsh, '12; Boone, '12; Woods, '13; Leavenworth, '14.

MANDOLIN CLUB.

Mandolins—Gould, '11; Westcott, '11; Thomas, '12; Barber, '13; Evans, '13; True, '13; Woods, '13; Heidner, '13; Gould, '13; Blood, '14; Leavenworth, '14; Felt, '14; Eddy, '14.

Guitars—Eells, '12; Warren, '12; Donaldson, '12; Porter, '13; Griswold, '13; Akers, '14.

The Mandolin Club will later be weeded out to the number of twelve and the Glee Club to the number of twenty. The men proving themselves most efficient being retained. During the absence from college of leader Gould, DuBois, '12, will assume direction of the Mandolin Club. The Mandolin Club already has three new pieces, one of which is McDowell's "To a Wild Rose," The Glee Club has several new pieces to begin work upon, one of which will be a Tutti-Frutti arranged by the untiring Purdy, '06. Allen will do solo work, while, as last year, Heidner and Woods will play a violin duet. The quartet, notwithstanding the absence of Sarles and Hastings, will not be inferior to its immediate predecessors. The program will also probably number a piano solo. For this term practices in both clubs will be restricted to three times a week. There will be this year tryouts for the position of monologist on the clubs. These tryouts will take place about the first of November. Six men have already signified their intention of trying out and any more who wish to do so should hand their names to Anibal, '11, at once.

THE NEW BLUE BOOK.

The Blue Book is out for the new year. The book this year, altho in many respects similar to last year's issue, is somewhat better printed, the body being done in black instead of blue, while the half-tones have been made much clearer by printing them in black instead of two colors, as was done last year. The book contains the usual budget of data, information, songs, etc. The board of editors who had charge of the publication were: C. B. Day, '11, Editor; R. B. Colson, '11, Assistant Editor; G. R. Bedenkapp, '12, and T. C. Corliss, '13, Advertising Managers.

EDITORIAL.

We take this opportunity, at the opening of another college year, to welcome the Freshmen to the Hill. Assurance can be given the members of 1914 that after the acquaintance of a few days has brought us closer together, the College receives the newcomers with cordiality and a spirit of hearty expectation. The members of this youngest generation in our ever changing family seem worthy and full of promise. But because they start the year well is no reason for showering the Freshmen with congratulations. Rather should they have a bit of advice placed on their perhaps overloaded shoulders. Everyone delights in giving advice and Freshmen have to receive much. This state of affairs, however, has its justification.

The newcomer should consider the situation in which he finds himself. Here he is becoming the active factor in perpetuating the works and traditions which have made Hamilton a college for generations before he was born. From this Hill have gone forth earnest and capable men who have placed Hamilton's name high in the world's affairs. It is but natural that they should be jealous of the reputation of their college and they look to the Freshmen for those qualities which shall make the college even more worthy of praise in the years that are to come. What an undergraduate does affects not him alone, but the institution of which he is a part. Remembering that and heeding Hamilton's traditions, make your actions here and elsewhere a credit to Hamilton.

For many this is the first step from home and its influences. Here you are on your own responsibility. Do not mistake liberty for license. With but few exceptions your decision must guide your conduct, for "Thou shalt nots" are scarce in college. Therefore learn to decide, and in so doing, to choose the right thing. You lose no man's respect by standing for the things that are just. It has been said often, and truly, that a college course is what each man makes it. Give much in effort and loyalty and you will receive equivalent rewards in the things that make life worth while. You are here primarily to study, and from your books and the classroom you may derive the training which will fit you to make a place in the world and fill it honorably. Here, too, you have a boundless opportunity to form friendships which will make your after life pleasant with memories. In the college activities there is every chance to gain recognition and all these are worth while. In all this the most difficult thing for the Freshman to appreciate is that the course extends past the end of his first year. You have four years here and the race is not won until the last lap is finished. It is a good thing to get the pole at the start but in the long grind it is the true heart and the sturdy legs that land some plucky runner the winner. So get into condition now for the final sprint four years in the future. "Be sure you're right, then go ahead." That is about the whole story, except that now is the time to get right.

The conditions of the opening foot ball season demand the careful thought and consideration of the College. Our football at the beginning of this season is in a very unsettled condition. A certain public disfavor resulted last year in the most radical changes of the playing rules that the game has ever undergone. Moreover, last year our coaching and financial systems were changed, all due to dissatisfaction with former conditions and all tending, to a certain extent, to unsettle the conditions under which we start the game this fall. There is also a degree of local opposition to the game and various other sports have been suggested as a substitute for football in this college. Besides there is a certain element in the College whose attitude is distinctly indifferent. Thus it is evident that this will be a critical season,—so much depending on our success or failure.

Without a canvass of the student body we feel safe in saying that while the College realizes, to a certain extent, the unsettled conditions, it nevertheless strongly desires the continuance and success of the game and is willing to manifest this desire by contributing its share of work. And there is work for every one. The Alumni coaches will do their share but in return they expect the cooperation of every man in college. They are not accepting either before undergraduates, faculty, or alumni, the responsibility of continuing the game in Hamilton College. Assuming, however, that the College wants to play, then the coaches from the graduate body are willing and anxious to do all in their power to have the game well played. With what is probably the best squad since 1905, with the unexpectedly encouraging reply to the call for graduate coaches, with a promising opening game to spur us on, there is every reason to hope for one of the fastest, best coached teams in years,—that is if hard, intelligent work on the part of the team co-operates with the enthusiastic interest of the student body.

There is a duty for every man in college. Any man who has ever played the game should join the squad. If you are not able to play, make it a point to be on the field every afternoon at four o'clock. Watch the practice, try out songs and cheers, get up "job lot" games and plan to take your recreation with the College on the football field. Stand by the team even if you do not play yourself. And remember if you are not in a suit yourself, don't criticize the work of those who are. It doesn't look well. Bear in mind, also, that when your term bill is due your athletic tax is to be paid also. Let's get a little more spirit in this football business; get back of Coach Moore, the Alumni coaches and the men, and then push.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the term bills are due. At the same time Treasurer Carruth of the Athletic Association will sit to receive the first installment of the Athletic Tax. In order that everyone may have an understanding of the tax system we quote several sections from Article V of the Constitution of the Athletic Association, which explains the matter in full.

ARTICLE V—Finances.

1. The financial affairs of this organization shall be controlled by a Board of Estimate and Apportionment except as otherwise provided. This Board shall consist of the officers of the Advisory Board. The assistant manager, however, shall have no vote in the Board.

2. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment shall at the beginning of each year make up a budget of expenditure for the year and levy a per capita annual tax on the undergraduate members. This tax may not exceed the sum of $15 in any one year.

5. The annual per capita tax shall be paid by the undergraduates in three parts, one at the beginning of each term, in such amounts as shall be indicated by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. On days when students pay their term bills and at the same time and place the Treasurer shall sit to receive the general tax.

6. To each man that pays his tax the Treasurer shall issue a term ticket (non-transferable), which shall serve both as a receipt for the tax and as a pass to all games on the athletic field or in the gymnasium.

7. Any student not able to pay the tax in any term and who will satisfy the President of the Association of his inability may obtain a written remission of part or all the tax as circumstances may require.

8. No manager shall at any time solicit subscriptions nor collect gate receipts, admissions, or entrance fees from any man holding the Treasurer's tickets for that year.

9. No student refusing or neglecting either to pay his athletic tax or to obtain a remission of the same shall be considered to be in good and regular standing in the organization and such students shall be considered as having forfeited all rights and privileges in this organization, and in the departments controlled in it.

It is very important for the success of our athletics that this matter be given your early attention.

PAINT NIGHT.

How or why the institution of paint night was founded is more or less a matter of personal opinion. That its purpose was akin to that of the Chapel Row, namely, a purely American method of making a group of men acquainted, is hardly possible. The difficulties encountered in recognizing the members of the under classes beneath numerous coats of paint is sufficient evidence that no firm and lasting friendships are formed on this occasion. However, as long as no serious harm or vandalism resulted, even tho there is little merit in the custom, there is practically no disposition on the part of the College to put an end to the affair.

Paint night of this term clearly showed that the custom should be either abolished or so restricted as to prevent the painting of College property. That the portable bleachers on Steuben Field should have been subjected to this treatment is to be regretted, while it is hardly necessary to criticize the taste which prompted the printing of several questionable inscriptions about the Campus.

As for paint night itself there was merely the repetition of the time-worn procedure. The Freshmen, after a march up the Hill, were met at the entrance of the Campus where the Sophomores commenced the running fight which continued to the Chapel steps. Here the procession was scattered by a timely application of the fire hose in the hands of 1913. Activities were adjourned to the Athletic Field and in the course of the next few minutes large portions of wood as well as human anatomy were liberally daubed. Upon the return to the Gym. another application of the hose dampened the Freshmen to such an extent that further conflict was postponed until the following morning. While there were a number of cuts and small bruises, none of the participants were seriously injured.

—The Junior Prom. Committee met Saturday afternoon for the first time. This committee is composed of the following men: Walker, Chairman; Boone, Treasurer; Alvord, Bagg, Bedenkapp, Grant, Hopkins and Mangan. The date for the Junior Prom., while not yet definitely fixed, will be some time in February.

MEETING OF N. Y. S. I. A. U.

The semi-annual meeting of the N. Y. S. I. A. U. was held on Saturday afternoon, October 1st, in the office of Foley & Foley in the Arcade Building, Utica. An amendment was proposed that college men should be allowed under the rules of the Union to play summer baseball on teams which are not under national protection. It was also decided that the annual track meet should be held on Decoration Day, May 30th, 1911, at Rome under the auspices of the Romohawks and under Hamilton management.

At the meeting, Union presented its resignation from the league on the grounds that their membership in the Union prevented their preparation of proper schedules. At the same time, Union asked to be permitted to enter the annual track meet. It was moved that Union be asked to reconsider its resignation.

Dr. J. A. Leighton, former President of the N. Y. S. I. A. U. and the Hobart representative tendered his resignation, as he has recently accepted the chair of Philosophy at the Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

The 1910 Baseball Pennant was awarded to Rochester and the 1910 Track Pennant to Colgate.

The new officers for next year were elected as follows: President, A. G. Foley, Hobart; Vice-president, Dr. Huntington, Colgate; Secretary, C. S. Peck, Hamilton; Treasurer, Dr. W. H. Squires, Hamilton.

Dr. W. H. Squires, Prof. Calvin L. Lewis and C. S. Peck, '12, were the Hamilton representatives at the meeting.

ELECTIONS OF CLASS OFFICERS.

SENIORS.

At a meeting of the Senior Class held Saturday, S. W. Jones of Utica was named to succeed Albert A. Getman of Oneonta as president of the class. The other officers were re-elected, and are Vice-president, C. E. Anibal, Gloversville; Secretary, T. D. Martin, Manti, Utah; Treasurer, G. F. Gouge, Utica.

JUNIORS.

The class election for the Juniors was held Saturday noon after chapel. The officers elected were: President, Clancy Connell, Southampton; Vice-president, Warren C. DuBois, Brooklyn; Secretary, Hugh F. Boone, Lima, Ohio; Treasurer, Charles D. Root, Cooperstown.

SOPHOMORES.

At a meeting of the Sophomores held last Wednesday after chapel, the following officers were elected: President, Roy A. Porter, Albion; Vice-president, Raymon T. Clapp, Mechanicville; Secretary, George Lyon, Binghamton; Treasurer, Abel Blackmar, Jr., Brooklyn. After the elections an agreement was reached between the Under-classes that all hostilities should be suspended from Saturday morning until Monday morning, thus giving the members of both classes freedom to roam the Hill without molestation.

Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION.

On Friday evening, September 23d, the Annual Reception of the Young Men's Christian Association to the Class of 1914, occurred in Silliman Hall. Nearly the whole College was present to welcome and become acquainted with the newcomers.

Colson, '11, as the President of the Association opened the evening's entertainment with a few words of welcome to the Freshmen and concluded his remarks by stating that the Y. M. C. A. stood for the ideal Hamilton man.

Prof. A. P. Saunders then varied the program with a violin solo, accompanied by Thompson, '12.

Wisehart, '11, spoke of the college publications, explaining their purpose and showing how the college body could aid in making them better.

Martin, '11, represented the football team with a strong appeal for Freshman candidates and urged every one not on the squad to be on the side-lines.

Prof. Shearer, altho a member of the Faculty, professed to have only the privileges of a Sophomore. The subject of his remarks was the Morality of a College Man.

Dr. Wood, the last speaker, gave an interesting talk upon the work of the Y. M. C. A. thruout the country. "The Y. M. C. A.," he said, "is the biggest institution to which a man can belong."

Refreshments were then served by the Sophomores, who prolonged the evening's entertainment after the reception with a spirited gym-show.
